10:35 Beginning of Joint Session with Sanctuary Advisory Council Chairs

10:40 Welcome and Introductions

- George Geiger, Chair, MPA FAC
- Olin Joynton, Chair, Thunder Bay SAC

Representatives from the 14 advisory councils in the National Marine Sanctuary System and from the Marine Protected Areas Federal Advisory Committee will be introduced by name, council and professional affiliation.

11:00 Making Marine Protected Areas Relevant: Expanding Our Constituent Base

Matt Stout, Chief of Staff and Communications, Office of National Marine Sanctuaries

This session will provide meeting participants with an overview of various efforts and tools (e.g., social media, cablecast) to engage new audiences and build a larger coalition of support for marine protected areas. It will highlight the socioeconomic, including recreational, value of marine protected areas and how we can leverage these values (and those who recognize these values) to improve public support for these areas.

11:30 Branding Marine Protected Areas

Jeff Gray, Superintendent, Thunder Bay National Marine Sanctuary

This session will provide meeting participants with an opportunity to learn ways to brand and highlight the value of marine protected areas.

12:00 Lunch (provided)

1:00 Engaging in Travel and Tourism: Panel Session

This session will be an interactive discussion that bridges the MPA Federal Advisory Committee’s charges of the Role of Marine Protected Areas for Recreation and Tourism and Connecting People to the Ocean through Marine Protected Areas and ONMS Campaign of Engagement themes (e.g., sanctuaries mean business and new communities/new audiences). Panelists will be provided 10 minutes to offer their perspective and opinions on one or more of the below questions, as appropriate and related to their experience base.
Panelists are not expected to address all three questions (and associated subparts listed below) in their opening remarks. Rather, panelists and meeting participants will have an opportunity to delve into these and other related questions (or themes) during the latter half of this session.

Panel Facilitators
- Charles Wahle, Senior Scientist, National Marine Protected Areas Center
- Paul Orlando, Chief, Technical Products and Services Division, ONMS

Panelists
- Dean Hudson, Chair, Fagatele Bay National Marine Sanctuary, and Owner, Le Falepule Bed and Breakfast
- Sylecia Johnston, Destination Services Specialist, Monterey County Convention and Visitors Bureau
- Meghan Kish, Chief of Interpretation, Education and Outreach, Santa Monica Mountains National Recreation Area
- Dorris Welch, Owner, Sanctuary Cruises

Questions
1. How can we promote sustainable recreation and tourism while balancing ecosystem protection and conservation?
   a. To what extent do coastal economies, especially those related to recreation and tourism, depend on healthy ecosystems?
   b. To what extent do local businesses market or promote marine protected areas as destinations?

2. Can you identify one example – either a success or a failure – related to managing the balance between marine conservation and sustainable recreation and tourism? If so, why is this example considered a success or a failure?

3. Is the recreational industry (e.g., tour boats, hotels, merchandizing) a “coalition” that can be mobilized to promote ecosystem conservation and the value of marine protected areas?
   a. What actions can we take to reach the recreational industry and associated user groups?
   b. What immediate action would you like to see taken by the recreational industry in support of marine protected areas?

2:30 Break
Engaging in Travel and Tourism: Group Discussion

Participants will be divided into eight groups (each group consisting of both MPA FAC and NMS AC members) to identify feasible, results-oriented action items that advisory council and committee members can pursue to build or enhance engagement with the travel, tourism and recreation industries. To facilitate this result, groups will be asked to identify key recreation and tourism constituencies (e.g. recreational users, tourism industry, coastal communities, foreign visitors) and identify specific strategies to better engage this group with MPAs and MPA programs.

The questions below should be used to guide the group’s discussion such that the end result is at least one feasible action item that can be achieved by advisory council and committee members (or the collective bodies):

Questions

1. What specific audience (e.g., youth, NGOs, user groups, visitors) do you think would be most effective in furthering the relationship between marine protected areas and recreation, travel and tourism industries?

   - Why did you choose this audience?
   - What is this audience’s current connection, perspective and level of engagement with marine protected areas and travel and tourism?
   - What are you trying to change and why by engaging with this particular audience?
   - What do you want this audience (or group of individuals) to do?
   - What message do you think is most appropriate and effective way to connect with and motivate this audience?
   - Is there an existing “model” that is immediately useful for this purpose?
   - What is/are the most effective way(s) (e.g., one communication method) to relay that message?
Wednesday, December 5, 2012 (continued)

2. What are one or two specific actions that need to be taken in the next three months to pursue this audience and the specified goals?
   - Who are the one or two key partners that could assist you in enabling these groups?
   - What is the most important additional resource that is needed?

3. What is the role of the advisory council or Marine Protected Areas Federal Advisory Committee – either as a collective body or as individuals?
   - Is there an opportunity for cross-council/committee communication and user group teams?

4. How should we evaluate success?

4:00 Report Outs from Work Session
Breakout Group Reporters
This session will summarize the action items identified from the advisory council chairs (and representatives) and Marine Protected Areas Federal Advisory Committee members during the 75-minute work session. Reporters will be asked to briefly (2-3 minutes) describe the audience selected, the proposed method of communication to this target audience, and the role of advisory council and committee members in implementing proposed actions.

4:25 Wrap-up and Next Steps
Daniel J. Basta, ONMS Director
This session will be an opportunity for the ONMS Director to offer his perspective on the joint sessions between the advisory council chairs (and representatives) and Marine Protected Areas Federal Advisory Committee members, and to propose ways forward for the collective group, these entities as separate units, and for individual members.

4:40 Adjourn

5:15-7:15 National Marine Sanctuary Foundation Reception
Location: Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary Exploration Center, 2nd Floor
Optional, informal evening reception hosted by the National Marine Sanctuary Foundation, in conjunction with the Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce. Sanctuary advisory council chairs and Marine Protected Areas Federal Advisory Committee members are invited to attend.
